

Since Indiana has implimented it's telephone privacy law, annoying telemarketing calls have dropped from 6-7 a day to nearly zero for my telephone number. It has been a godsend. Please do not ruin it with a watered-down federal law to replace it. My time is too precious to be bothered by unwanted solicitation. The Indiana law is terrific... it ain't broke, so don't try to "fix" it!